

WHANGĀREI AND SURROUNDS

Taitokerau Northland's only city is a place where stunning scenery, vibrant arts and culture, and unique attractions and activities collide. The picturesque Town Basin is lined with restaurants and cafes and the city centre offers up retail therapy, art galleries, museums, guided tours and more. Several communities line the coast, from magical Mangawhai and Bream Bay in the south, to Whangārei Heads, the Tutukākā Coast, and Oakura in the north, each with their own unique culture. Just off-shore lie the Poor Knights Islands, a top rated dive site and natural playground. Don't miss the range of stunning walking trails, wildlife experiences or world-famous beaches while you explore this area.

BAY OF ISLANDS

There's more to this aquatic playground than meets the eye. Rich in history and culture, this is where many of the pivotal moments in Aotearoa New Zealand's story happened, including the signing of the Treaty of Waitangi on what is now the Waitangi Treaty Grounds. Exploring the 144 islands that make up the bay is easy with an abundance of activities, from adventurous parasailing to laid-back sailing and everything in between. Quaint seaside towns like Russell and Paihia line the edges of the bay, and inland villages and towns like Kerikeri and Kawakawa provide plenty to see and do. Don't miss the historical and cultural sites, stunning waterfalls or fresh local produce served up in superb eateries.

WHERE TO STAY IN NORTHLAND

Choosing where to stay in Taitokerau Northland is just as much fun as choosing what to do. The subtropical climate makes camping a fun activity even in the cooler months, and there are plenty of options from simple Department of Conservation campsites to well-established and amenity-rich holiday parks. At the other end of the scale, Taitokerau Northland is home to some of Aotearoa New Zealand's best luxury lodges where your every want is met before you even know you need it, complete with personal chefs and private beaches. There is also a range of cool and quirky accommodation, plenty of glamping, family-friendly motels, and resort-style hotels all over the region. Although freedom camping is permitted in some areas, most campsites are well-marked so be sure to do your research before parking up for the night.

Whangārei is Taitokerau Northland's only city with several hotels around the city centre. Plenty of motels, holiday homes, and holiday parks are located around the extensive coastline of the Whangārei district, from Bream Bay in the south to the Tutukākā and Oakura coasts in the north. In the Bay of Islands, most accommodation is centred in the main hubs of Paihia, Russell, and Kerikeri. Further north, Doubtless Bay and Ahipara make for beachfront accommodation paradise, while on the west coast, Opononi, Omāpere, Rāwene, and Kohukohu have a range of accommodation from hotels and motels to quaint and quirky B&Bs.

country's longest-running traditional growers market, and weekly farmers, artisans, and hybrid markets run all over the region from Mangawhai to Kaitāia, Paparoa to the Bay of Islands. No matter where you go, you'll be spoiled for choice.

JOURNEY THROUGH NORTHLAND

There are plenty of ways to discover the real Taitokerau

Northland. Find the Northland Journeys overleaf, a series of road and water maps designed to show you the hidden gems, local favourites, and must-visit places when you venture off the beaten track. Each journey is a half to full-day exploration, between 50-150km in length. Discover the Secret Coast Route, wander Where Giants Gather or traverse The Ancient Kauri Trail, but be warned, once you have done one you will want to do them all!

Taitokerau Northland is also home to Aotearoa New Zealand's northern-most Great Ride; the Pou Herenga Tai Twin Coast Cycle Trail, spanning from the Bay of Islands in the east to the Hokianga Harbour in the west. It can be completed over two days and is suitable for beginners, especially if using an e-bike! There are also three Heartland Rides for more serious cyclists and a number of shorter local cycleways around the region. For those who like a little more adrenalin in their ride, there are several mountain bike parks, including the extensive Waitangi Mountain Bike Park with over 40km of trails from easy Grade 2 to expert level Grade 5 tracks.

If exploring on foot is more your style, you'll find a huge range of hikes, from multi-day treks along stunning coastlines like the Te Paki Coastal Walkway, leisurely boardwalks through ancient kauri forests, and steep mountain climbs to some of the region's best viewpoints like Mount Manaia.

TE RERENGA WAIRUA CAPE REINGA

Visit the majestic and sacred top of the country where it's believed the spirits depart the mainland back to their homeland Hawaiki. Witness the two oceans collide and take in the breath-taking vistas.

TE PAKI SAND DUNES

The most impressive of all the sand dunes in Northland, Te Paki is a must-visit in Te Hiku o Te Ika-a-Māui. Try your hand at sandboarding or simply soak in the other-wordly feel of these expansive sands.

TOHU WHENUA

Tohu Whenua are the landmarks that tell the stories of Aotearoa New Zealand. Taitokerau Northland is home to nine of these sites, such as Kororipo Heritage Park where The Stone Store, the oldest stone building in the country is located.
